100 YEARS & STILL COOKING

In 1896, when industry in the southeastern U.S. was growing at a rapid pace, a man named Joseph Lodge decided to start a cast iron foundry in the small town of South Pittsburg, Tennessee.

Built in the shadow of the Cumberland Plateau beside the Tennessee River, Lodge Cast Iron has grown from a modest foundry for machine parts and household goods into a thriving international business. It is the only cast iron cookware foundry from its era still operating in the United States.

“THE LODGE CAST IRON SKILLET IS PERFECT.”

Cooking Light

The transformation into a global business didn't happen overnight. Over its 123-year history, the Lodge family stood by its belief in reinvesting in the company and keeping employees working, even through tough times. During the Great Depression, Lodge manufactured doorstops and lawn ornaments to stay in business. In 1950, Lodge converted its foundry's hand-pour operation to an automated molding process in order to keep up with demand. In 1992, Lodge replaced its coal-fired cupola furnaces with induction furnaces, earning the company a Tennessee Governor's Award for Excellence in Hazardous Waste Reduction. In 2002, Lodge piloted the introduction of foundry-seasoned cast iron to the marketplace, an innovation that has since become an industry standard.

To celebrate 122 years of business, Lodge expanded in 2018 to meet soaring customer demand with the addition of a second foundry and a new distribution center both on Tennessee soil.

Lodge's new foundry has increased production capacity by 75%, and its new distribution center is five times larger than its previous warehouse, with space for 10 times as many trucks.

While operations today look very different than they did in 1896, Lodge's core values—like a commitment to quality, the dedication to a local American workforce, and the act of reinvesting in the small-town community it calls home—have remained unchanged. Lodge believes that these values comprise the necessary foundation to flourish for another century of creating heirloom-quality cast iron cookware for kitchens, campfires, and tables around the world.

HEAT-TREATED & SEASONED

AMERICAN MADE CAST IRON

OUR TOUGHEST IRON YET

Made just like traditional Lodge cast iron, this line of heat-treated iron is put through a patented heat-treating process that protects iron from rust. The iron is heated in a special oven at high temperatures, changing the molecular structure of the iron. When the heat treatment is added to the pre-seasoning process, you experience an even greater easy-release finish.

- Patented heat-treating process inhibits rust
- Seasoned with oil for a natural, easy-release finish that improves with use
- The kitchen workhorse: sear, sauté, bake, broil, braise, fry
- No synthetic coatings—just iron and oil
- Legendary durability for decades of cooking
- Made safe for occasional dishwasher use.

How It's Made

In 2013, Lodge debuted a line of seasoned cast iron cookware that undergoes a special heat-treating process to make it rust-resistant and dishwasher-safe. The process is not a coating, but a way of heating cast iron in a controlled environment that diminishes its capacity to rust. In internal tests, these pieces have survived hundreds of cycles in a commercial dishwasher without showing any signs of rust!

COOK & SERVE WITH FLAIR

Grill, sear, or sauté and then immediately serve to the table with this unique line of seasoned and ready-to-use sizzleware. With unmatched heat retention and even heating, these tools offer a variety of ways to prepare and present meals. The commercial wood underliners protect surfaces and allow you to carry sizzleware from your heat source to the table with ease.

Commercial wood underliners protect counters and tabletops and are built to securely hold the cast iron in this line. The underliners are constructed of cross-laminated, cold forest hardwoods at 1.91 cm thick and finished with water-resistant, oil-based stain. The cold forest hardwood absorbs stain and oil in different ways, making each underliner unique.

LODGE

• CAST IRON •

AMERICAN MADE SINCE 1896

SEASONED & READY TO USE

As the only manufacturer of a full line of American-made cast iron cookware, Lodge boasts a quality that has been unmatched for over a century. Home cooks love Lodge for the even heating and natural, easy-release finish. Outdoor enthusiasts love the versatility and durability. Everyone loves the value found in cookware that performs for generations. At Lodge, we don't just make cast iron; we make heirlooms that gather loved ones around the table.

- Seasoned for a natural, easy-release finish that improves with use
- The right tools to sear, sauté, simmer, bake, broil, braise, fry, and roast
- At home in the oven, on the stove, on the grill, or over the campfire
- Easy care: hand wash, dry promptly, rub with cooking oil
- Unparalleled heat retention and even heating
- Brutally tough for decades of cooking

LODGE

• CAST IRON •

AMERICAN MADE SINCE 1896

IRONS IN THE FIRE

Simply put, Lodge Cast Iron is the cookware of the outdoors. From the chuckwagons of our past to the patios and campsites of today, you can turn meal time into a personalized experience worth sharing with camp Dutch ovens, grills, and the revolutionary Cook-It-All. Combined with our array of quality accessories built for durability and safety, the outdoor enthusiast stays well-equipped when nature calls.

- Seasoned for a natural, easy-release finish that improves with use
- The right tools to sear, sauté, simmer, bake, broil, braise, fry, and roast
- At home in the oven, on the stove, on the grill, or over the campfire
- Easy care: hand wash, dry promptly, rub with cooking oil
- Unparalleled heat retention and even heating
- Brutally tough for decades of cooking

LODGE

SEASONED STEEL

MADE IN THE USA

DURABLE & LIGHTWEIGHT

Made in America and pre-seasoned at our Tennessee foundry, the Seasoned Steel boasts a natural, easy-release finish right out of the box. Made of 100% carbon steel, these Seasoned Steel pans are lighter to lift and they can take the continuous heat of professional kitchens—as well as open fires at the campsite.

- Heavy-duty 12 gauge carbon steel with steel-riveted handles
- Seasoned for a natural, easy-release finish that improves with use
- The right tool to sear, sauté, grill, roast, fry
- Easy care: hand wash, dry promptly, rub with cooking oil
- Great for induction cooktops
- 100% Made in America

Carbon Steel Fun Fact

Did you know that Lodge is the only cookware manufacturer to season its carbon steel line? This means Lodge Seasoned Carbon Steel is ready to use right off the shelf, no at-home seasoning required.

PORCELAIN BEAUTY

Lodge's century-old tradition of excellence continues as we combine the benefits of cast iron with the beauty of porcelain enamel. Superior heat retention produces a perfect braise or expert sauté, and the vibrant enamel surface allows you to refrigerate and marinate food. As workhorses in the kitchen and show pieces on the dinner table, these tools offer all the style and function of French brands at a value (and price) that is all Lodge.

- The right tool to marinate, refrigerate, cook, and serve
- Unparalleled heat retention and even heating
- Smooth glass surface won't react to ingredients
- Sauté, simmer, or fry on any stovetop
- Broil, braise, bake, or roast in the oven up to 500° F
- Made in China

USE & CARE

LODGE CAST IRON & SEASONED STEEL

TO KEEP THIS COOKWARE 100 YEARS

Wash cast iron by hand with mild soap or just warm water.

Dry promptly and thoroughly with a lint-free cloth or paper towel.

Rub with a very light layer of vegetable oil, preferably while the cookware is still warm.

Hang or store the cookware in a dry place.

That's it! You've just preserved your future heirloom.

SEASONING BASICS

Seasoning is simply oil baked into the iron, giving it a natural, easy-release finish.

Lodge seasons all of its cookware with soy vegetable oil and nothing else.

Seasoning is an ongoing process that gets better and better the more you cook.

With some foods, new cookware might require a little extra oil the first few uses.

Acidic foods, like tomatoes and some beans, should only be cooked once seasoning is well-established.

Dishwashers, abrasives and harsh detergents are no-no's and will harm the seasoning.

LET'S COOK...

All new cookware should be rinsed and dried thoroughly before first use.

Use any utensils you like, even metal. There is no chemical coating to damage.

Always lift cookware on smooth-top stoves. Sliding anything can scratch the surface.

Be sure to protect your hands; our handles get hot, too.

Cast iron performs best when heated and cooled gradually.

Cast iron has superior heat retention and rarely requires a "high" heat setting.

Your new cookware is right at home on or in any heat source, indoors or out, except the microwave.

USE & CARE

LODGE ENAMEL

THINGS TO KNOW BEFORE YOU COOK

Wash and dry cookware before the first use. If cookware includes rubber bumpers, set them aside and keep for storage.

The porcelain (glass) finish is hard, but can be chipped if banged or dropped.

Interior protection (like Lodge Pot Protectors, APPI1) must be used to prevent chipping if cookware is stacked.

There is no exposed cast iron on your enamel cookware. The black cooking surfaces, pot rims and lid rims are matte porcelain.

Use on gas, electric, ceramic, and induction cooktops. Always lift cookware to move.

Bake or broil in any conventional or convection oven. Stainless knobs and cookware are oven safe to 500° F.

The heat retention of cast iron and the benefits of porcelain combine to perform many cooking techniques, including sautéing, frying, searing, braising, stewing, roasting, broiling and baking.

Porcelain enamel is resistant to acidic and alkaline foods and can be used to marinate and refrigerate.

Do not use in microwave ovens, on outdoor grills or over campfires.

Use oven mitts to protect hands from hot cookware and knobs. Protect counter tops and tables by placing hot cookware on trivets or heavy cloths.

LET'S COOK

Cast iron has superior heat distribution and retention - evenly heating the bottom and sidewalls of the vessel and across the lid.

Use vegetable oil or cooking spray for better cooking and easier cleaning.

Low to medium heat when cooking on the stovetop provides the best results due to natural heat retention of cast iron. Do not use high heat.

RUST!? DON'T PANIC, IT'S NOT BROKEN

Without protective seasoning, cast iron cookware can discolor or even rust.

It's easy to fix. Simply scour the affected area with steel wool, rinse, dry, and rub with vegetable oil while pan is warm.

If problems persist, you may have to re-season. Just visit <http://www.lodgechef.com/use-and-care/refurbish-your-finish> for instructions.

DO YOU HAVE A LODGE LID?

Glass lids are oven safe up to 400° F. They can go in the dishwasher, but not in the microwave.

Iron lids feature either self-basting tips or concentric rings that keep your food from drying out.

All iron lids should be cared for like the iron piece that they cover.

When storing lids, place a paper towel between the lid and the pot to prevent moisture build up.

DID YOU PURCHASE A REVERSIBLE GRIDDLE?

If yours is for 2 burners, heat both ends evenly (may not perform on induction tops).

All reversible griddles perform best when heated gradually.

To sear, use a skillet or grill pan. Allow cookware to come to medium heat. Brush cooking surface and food with vegetable oil just before introducing food into preheated pan.

Do not heat empty Dutch oven or covered casserole.

Use wooden, silicon or nylon utensils. Metal can scratch the porcelain.

The heat retention of cast iron requires less energy to maintain a required temperature. Turn the burner down to accommodate.

When on a stovetop, use a burner nearest in size to the diameter of the pan bottom to avoid hot spots and over-heating of sidewalls and handles.

CARING FOR YOUR LODGE ENAMEL COOKWARE

Allow cookware to cool before washing.

Although it is dishwasher safe, hand washing with warm soapy water is recommended to preserve the cookware's original appearance.

If necessary, use nylon pads or scrapers to remove food residue; metal pads or utensils will scratch or chip porcelain.

Remove slight stains by rubbing with dampened cloth and baking soda.

For persistent stains, soak interior of the cookware for 2 to 3 hours with a mixture of 3 tablespoons of household bleach per quart of water.

To remove stubborn baked on food, bring to a boil 2 cups of water and 4 tablespoons of baking soda. Boil for a few minutes then use nylon or wood scraper to loosen food.

Dry cookware thoroughly before storing.

Loose knobs? Tighten the screw. Be gentle, it's glass!

Citrus juices and citrus-based cleaners (including some dishwasher detergents) should not be used as they can dull the exterior gloss.
